HOW TO GET THERE

Haarlem

Start your journey at Amsterdam Centraal Station. Buy your Amsterdam & Region Travel Ticket at the I amsterdam Store (or a separate ticket inside the station).

- Direct train service from Amsterdam Centraal Station to Haarlem Station - 20 minutes.

Plan your journey on Google Maps or use the 9292 app.

For centuries, Haarlem has been a hub of art and culture: from works by master painter Frans Hals and historic architecture to modern galleries and quirky museums. There's something for everyone. Grab some retail therapy at the concept stores and vintage shops that line the Gouden Straatjes (Golden Streets). Explore the local craft ateliers or relax in the city's lush green areas. When the sun sets, head out for a lively evening at one of Haarlem's Michelin-starred restaurants, friendly cafés, world-class concert venues or cutting-edge theatres.

ART & CULTURE

HOLY HISTORY

Haarlem is home to many great churches of varying architectural styles. The skyline of Haarlem's market square is dominated by the Gothic, cross-shaped Grote of St. Bavokerk. 1 Work on the church started in 1370, but the 78-metre tall spire wasn't completed until 1520. You can see the resemblance in style to the white stone steeple of the late-15th-century Bakenesserkerk located nearby. 2 By contrast, the Nieuwe Kerk – constructed between 1613 and 1616 by the Flemish city architect Lieven de Key – has distinctive Renaissance-style elements. 3

MUSEUM VAN DE GEEST | DOLHUYS

Voted European Museum of the Year 2022, Museum van de Geest (Museum of the Mind) is a former mental health institute and sick house now transformed into a fascinating museum. The exhibitions explore the mind and motivations of people who lived on the fringes of society, whether they wanted to or not. Discover works by thinkers and scientists who dealt with disabilities or mental illness, including artists like Edvard Munch, best-known for painting 'The Scream', and Vincent van Gogh. Audio tours in English are available. 4

museumvandegeest.nl

TEYLERS MUSEUM

A perfectly preserved world of the 18th-century Enlightenment awaits behind the heavy monumental doors of the oldest museum in the Netherlands. Visitors can rediscover the 'newest' scientific experiments of the time, including recently excavated fossils and drawings, and accounts of journeys of discovery. Wandering amongst the collection of authentic display cases is like leafing through an antique encyclopedia, allowing each object to tell its own story.

The free audio tour is highly recommended. You can also learn more about the museum's founder at the beautifully restored Pieter Teylers Huis. Explore this unique national monument, home to stately period rooms and lavish 18th-century interiors. 5

GROTE MARKT

Flanked by cafés and restaurants – plus plenty of historic buildings – Grote Markt, previously called 't Sant, is the original centre of Haarlem and is considered by many to be the most beautiful urban square in the country. In the 13th and 14th centuries, gallows loomed over 't Sant, jousting tournaments were held in the square, and traders pedalled their wares. The City Hall 6 (which also houses the Tourist Information Centre) stands on the spot of the Counts of Holland hunting lodge. The wooden building was almost entirely destroyed by a fire in the 14th-century but was rebuilt in a flamboyant style. Opposite the City Hall on Grote Markt looms the Gothic Grote of St. Bavokerk, whose 78-metre steeple has dominated Haarlem's skyline for centuries. Built between 1370 and 1520, the church is UNESCO-protected and contains beautiful Renaissance artworks. Famous painters Frans Hals and Pieter Saenredam are buried here, and the renowned Müller organ – one of the finest in the world, standing 30 metres high with about 5,000 pipes – was once played by Mozart at the age of ten. 1

FRANS HALS MUSEUM

A must-see for anyone interested in the Dutch Masters, the Frans Hals Museum celebrates Haarlem's most famous native. It is Haarlem's museum of fine art, home to the world's biggest collection of Frans Hals paintings, alongside works by famous Haarlem artists. The jewel in the crown is Hals' group portraits of the civic guards. Thanks to his loose brush technique and their exceptionally lively composition, these works are truly a feast for the eye. Discover the Frans Hals Museum at two historical locations in Haarlem's old city centre: Frans Hals Museum Groot Heiligland 7 and HAL 8, just a seven-minute walk away which presents modern and contemporary art exhibitions. Across both locations, you'll find a stimulating mixture of Haarlem's 16th and 17th-century, modern and contemporary art.

VERWEY MUSEUM

Past meets present at Verwey Museum Haarlem, where the city's history takes centre stage in an engaging permanent exhibition. Several temporary exhibitions a year highlight Haarlem's historical or artistic heritage in a more comprehensive way. These are combined with lectures, guided tours, city tours and children's workshops. Open seven days a week, Verwey Museum Haarlem is the ideal starting point to explore the city. 9

MOLEN DE ADRIAAN

In the heart of Haarlem, the Molen de Adriaan, originally built in 1778, is a windmill that sits along the river Spaarne on the foundations of the tower that once defended the city centre. When the windmill burned down in 1932, a central focal point of the city was lost. It took 70 years for local citizens to raise enough money to rebuild it. The view of old Haarlem from the platform above the river is not to be missed. 10

KOEPELKATHEDRAAL

This unique cathedral is ranked amongst the top five most important churches in the world built between 1850 and 1950. Designed by Joseph Cuypers in a range of architectural styles, the building features 12 towers and a 65-meter-tall dome. Explore it fully with a guided tour or admire artefacts in the church's museum. 11

DE FILMKOEPEL

This art-house cinema is housed in a national monument that was once, of all things, a prison. Constructed at the end of the 19th century, the design of this stunning building was based upon panopticon principles and features a mesmerising free-standing domed ceiling. Nowadays, De Filmkoepel is the place to catch beautiful arthouse films, the best of Hollywood and everything in between. 12

OUT & ABOUT

LOCAL BREWERIES

Beer is definitely a religion for some, but former church-turned brewery Jopenkerk ¹³ takes it to extremes. Brewing Jopen craft beers onsite according to old recipes and modern innovations, the former Jacobskerk has been beautifully restored – with vaulted ceilings and stained glass intact – and also houses a grand café and restaurant. Hidden amongst the city's 17th-century brick interior is this nifty little 'Owly Bar'. The owners rolled up their sleeves and transformed 120 square metres of prime Haarlem real estate into the city's first uncompromised craft beer bar with a constant carousel of 30 draught beers and more than 120 bottles. A hoppy paradise with beer chilled differently according to type and origin. ¹⁴ jopenkerk.nl uiltjecraftbeer.com

PHIL HAARLEM

Located at the heart of old Haarlem, Phil is the city's finest concert hall and home to the perfectly preserved late Romantic Cavaillé-Coll organ. This striking 19th-century building features numerous galleries with high ceilings and state-of-the-art technical installations. The language-no-problem programme includes dance performances, pop concerts, classical music, and plays in English or without any speech. ¹⁵ philhaarlem.nl

HAARLEMMERHOUTPARK

Haarlemmerhout is the Netherlands' oldest green monument. Located on the south side of Haarlem, 'The Wood', as it is popularly called, has an area of 60 acres complete with a deer park, petting zoo and tearoom and is host to excellent summer music festivals. Located on the edge of the park, Paviljoen Welgelegen has been the seat of the government of the province of North Holland since 1930. Built during the revolutionary year of 1789, it became a retreat for Napoleon and Wilhelmina of Prussia, the mother of King William I. During opening hours, you can visit inside with free entrance. ¹⁶

DE WAAG

The buildings along the River Spaarne, which winds its way through Haarlem, are some of the city's most impressive. Take De Waag (the Weigh House) dating from 1599, for example, where traders weighed cheese and butter. The Renaissance-style building has two virtually identical stone façades and characteristic round-arched and cross windows. Settle down at the riverside café, Taverne de Waag, to admire what has been one of the most striking features of the Haarlem skyline for centuries. ¹⁷ tavernedewaag.nl

CANAL CRUISING

Discover Haarlem's beautiful city centre from a different perspective: the water. Cruise along the historic canals and River Spaarne with an experienced skipper, leaving plenty of room for explanations about the history, art and important landmarks of the city. The various tour operators - including Smidtje Canal Cruises, Haarlem Canal Tours and Luxe Sloepen Haarlem - offer boats in different styles with a range of optional refreshments packages thrown in. ¹⁸ visithaarlem.com

KLEINE HOUTSTRAAT

Part of the city's Gouden Straatjes (Golden Streets), Kleine Houtstraat boasts boutique shops, unique concept stores and enticing restaurants. And once you experience it for yourself, it'll come as no surprise to learn it's been voted 'Best Shopping Street of the Netherlands' – twice. ¹⁸ visithaarlem.com/en

TIP BIKE RENTAL

Explore the city, nearby beach and dunes at your own pace. Rent a Bike Haarlem has English- and German-speaking staff who will walk you through everything you need to know, or even guide you. ¹⁹ rentabikehaarlem.nl

A TASTE OF HAARLEM

CULINARY EVENTS

If you love to travel by your stomach, then Haarlem is the place to be this year. Annual food truck festival Rrrollend Haarlem rocks up at Lichtfabriek for a few days of exceptional streetfood in the summer (5-7 July) ²⁰. The city's annual culinary festival sees restaurants from Haarlem and the surrounding area serve up an array of delicious and affordable dishes against the backdrop of the Grote of St. Bavokerk on the city's Grote Markt square. As well as food from around the world and regional dishes made with local produce, visitors can also enjoy speciality beers and wines – and a whole range of live music (1-4 August). Elsewhere, Proefpark arrives the first weekend of September at Kenaupark, ²¹ where more than 30 food trucks and mobile kitchens descend upon this monumental green space. From wood-oven pizzas to pulled pork sandwiches or vegan fish 'n chips, tuck into cuisines from all continents with all dietary requirements catered for. The bar will be showcasing local beers, wines, soft drinks and kombuchas, as well as freshly prepared scroppinos. ²² (30 August-1 September). rrrrollend.nl haarlemculinair.nl proefparkhaarlem.nl

DANÉ

Overlooking the Rivervismarkt – the square that once played host to the (river) fish market – is Restaurant Dané. Seafood unsurprisingly plays a big part on the menu, with halibut ceviche, the seasonal fish and gravlax all making a welcome and delicious appearance. Tuck into one of these dishes while enjoying a glass of chilled white wine as you gaze through the floor-to-ceiling windows out to the bustle beyond. ²³ restaurantdane.nl

JACOBUS PIECK

For almost 30 years, Jacobus Pieck has been a welcome retreat for Haarlemmers on snug Warmoestraat. Home to a terrace and courtyard garden, as well as a flower-adorned exterior, Jacobus Pieck looks the part. Luckily the menu is just as good, with a low-key lunch centred on burgers, soups and salads, and a dinner service that allows guests to create a custom three-course meal from any of the dishes on offer. ²⁴ jacobuspieck.nl

NOLITA

With a striped red awning and a wooden exterior, Nolita Haarlem packs plenty of retro appeal as the city's local pizza parlour. One for the thin crust lovers, tuck into classics like anchovy and caper-heavy Napoletana pizza or the herby goodness of a Finocchiona, topped with fennel salami and artichokes. And while pizza is the star here, the gnocchi starter with spinach, gorgonzola and walnuts is a big hit with guests. ²⁵ nolita.nl/haarlem

DAY TRIP BIKE TO THE BEACH

Full day

Haarlem is just a short bike ride from rolling white sand dunes, broad beaches and lively beach cafés.

START at Amsterdam Centraal Station and take the train to Haarlem (15 minutes). Head to Rent a Bike across the station square to arrange your wheels. ¹⁹

PEDAL along the winding River Spaarne, passing a picturesque restored windmill, the Molen de Adriaan. ¹⁰

FOLLOW Kampersingel and Raamsingel to marvel at the magnificent Koepel Kathedraal. ¹¹ Continue on through the dunes and to Zandvoort aan Zee.

STROLL along the beach, stopping at one of the inviting cafés. When you're done, return to Haarlem. Make sure to return your bicycle by 18:00 when Rent a Bike closes. ¹⁹

DINE Breton-style at Ti Bisou Crêpes Boutique, an ode to the homely atmosphere and food of France's northwesterly region. Tuck into galettes – buckwheat pancakes – with eggs and farmer ham, and crêpes with stroop (Dutch syrup) or classic sugar and lemon for the traditionalists. ²⁶ tibisoucrepes.nl

LAST CALL (if you still have the energy) can be ordered at one of the cafés on Oude Groenmarkt.

Plan your journey on Google Maps or use the 9292 app.

From wild parties to sweeping dunes and blissed-out beaches to blustery coastal paths, there's something for everyone at Amsterdam Beach, no matter what the season. Spring and autumn are great for sandy strolls or tranquil hikes, and catching a breath of fresh air (or as the Dutch like to call it: uitwaaien). Winter walkers embrace the coastal air as the bravest of the brave take a dip in the North Sea. Come summer, sun-lovers bask on the beautiful golden beaches of (among others) Zandvoort aan Zee and visit the hip cafés, restaurants and trendy beach clubs. Alternatively, IJmuiden is characterised by its raw beauty – from the rugged beach to the industrial port, with its formidable harbours and an enormous lock system – and the North Sea wind makes this spot a haven for wind and watersports fans.

COASTAL ADVENTURES

ZANDVOORT BEACH

Visit the charming town of Zandvoort for a seaside stroll or to hop from one sunny beachside terrace to the next. Enjoy the exceptionally wide sandy beach and the amazing views from the beautiful promenade that extends for several kilometres north and south of town. Zandvoort is one of the Netherlands' oldest beach resorts, with the first bathhouse put into use back in 1829. This was the start of the development of a luxury bathing resort frequented by many people of renown – including Empress Elisabeth of Austria – and it remains one of the region's most popular beaches. Come on a cloudy day to take in the peaceful stretches of sand or see Zandvoort in full swing during one of the many themed events hosted here year-round. ¹ visitzandvoort.com

DUTCH GRAND PRIX 22-25 AUGUST 2024

Thrill-seekers have the chance to feel like Max Verstappen all year round at Circuit Zandvoort, a motorsports racetrack hidden among the dunes. Hop in a Lamborghini, Aston Martin or McLaren and test your driving skills, while the younger ones can practice in a go-kart. Then in August, the Netherlands gets set for the annual Formula 1 Heineken Dutch Grand Prix 2024, which hits the tarmac in Zandvoort. Make your way down to the coast for an unmissable weekend of high-speed manoeuvres and screaming engines. ² circuitzandvoort.nl

WIND AND WATER SPORTS

With a complete range of water sports on offer, the wide sandy beaches at IJmuiden, Wijk aan Zee, Zandvoort and Bloemendaal are the ideal place for thrill-seekers to get their fix! The Netherlands has a big surfing and windsurfing scene and you'll find plenty of schools and rental options along the coastline. Or, for some proper adventure, test out your paddle power on a thrilling sea kayaking adventure through the choppy waves. Other sports available include sea rafting, kitesurfing (a spectacular version of windsurfing that allows for very high jumps and incredible manoeuvres) and stand up paddleboarding. And, if you're not into getting wet, there are still plenty of ways to get your heart pumping at the beach. Try blokarting, a unique wind-powered go-kart that lets you zoom along the coast very fast – no rules, no jams, no oncoming traffic.

DRINKS WITH A VIEW

Zandvoort's dozens of beach clubs, restaurants and pavilions offer the perfect place to relax, with wind-screened terraces and delicious food and drink options. May we suggest a luxurious sunset cocktail at

Mango's Beachbar? ³ Choose between views of the rolling dunes or the crashing waves. mangosbeachbar.nl

PRIDE AT THE BEACH 28-30 JULY 2024

Rain or shine, it's time to break out the beachwear as Pride Amsterdam heads to the beach at Zandvoort aan Zee. This annual celebration of LGBTQI+ pride and diversity has a sun-soaked twist, encompassing a colourful parade and a variety of events, games and parties at the local beach bars. ¹ visitzandvoort.com/calendar

EXPERIENCE WILDLIFE

If you're looking for more peace and quiet, Zandvoort offers access to two large nature parks (see page 19), which guarantee the chance to spot Konik horses, fallow deer, Scottish Highland cattle and the impressive bison all year round. Every October, the famous sand dunes fill with the calls of male deer, noisily hunting for a mate. This must-see sight (and unforgettable sound) is also a great excuse to visit the town centre, beach and racetrack – all hosting their own activities to help Zandvoort go 'wild'. ¹¹ visitzandvoort.com/calendar

RUGGED BEACHES

ESCAPE TO THE SEA IN IJMUIDEN

The wild beach at IJmuiden is the perfect location for a stroll on the sand or a frolic in the waves. The fresh gusts of wind coming in from the North Sea ensure that IJmuiden is a haven for sports like kitesurfing and flyboarding. Or, take a walk to the end of the long pier to marvel at Zeeluis IJmuiden – Europe's largest lock complex. To try your hand at fishing, head to the colourful port, home to many fishing boats. Feeling hungry? Enjoy some fresh fish straight off the boats at the harbour's many excellent restaurants. ⁴ ijmuidenaanzee.nl

EXPERIENCE HISTORY

IJmuiden is seaside beauty at its rawest. Behind the beach, the wide, bunker-studded dunes – great for cycling through – frame the sea, on which there is always an enormous ship disappearing over the horizon. The Bunker Museum ⁵ is housed in five fascinating German bunkers from the Second World War. Take a walking tour here to learn more about the battles of decades past. At the mouth of the North Sea Canal is Forteiland IJmuiden ⁶, an impressive fortress dating from 1880. This former military defence offers plenty of history, adventure and relaxation, and is part of the Defence Line of Amsterdam, a unique UNESCO World Heritage Site. Open every first Sunday of the month from March to November. bunkermuseum.nl ijmuidenaanzee.nl

HARBOUR FESTIVAL 22-23 JUNE 2024

The annual IJmuiden Harbour Festival returns in 2024 and will take place on Saturday 22 and Sunday 23 June. For two days, the Trawlerkade will be completely dedicated to art and culture, fishing, offshore industry and the ports. havenfestivalijmuiden.nl

HEEMSKERK

Only 35 minutes away by train or car, Heemskerk is the North Sea coastline's best-kept secret. Sandwiched between the dunes and the sea, this historic town is known for its monuments, churches and castles, surrounded by lush green parks. The town centre is bustling with shoppers exploring the speciality boutiques, cosy cafés and restaurants. There is also an extensive market on Fridays for fresh groceries and regional delicacies. For centuries, this area's primary industry was farming, but from the 19th-century onwards, a strong tradition of flower bulb and strawberry cultivation emerged. In any season, you can explore the region's horticultural history, by hiring bike to explore the various cycling paths traversing the countryside. Or anyone looking for a coastal adventure, can take an easy 20-minute cycle towards the beach, passing through stunning dunes and forested areas dotted with grazing sheep and Scottish highlanders. The family-friendly beach is equipped with all conveniences including beach chairs, parasols and rentable windbreaks, with refreshments available from the beach pavilion. Be sure to check the link below for lots of other things to do in Heemskerk. ⁷ heemskerkezevantijd.nl

CHATEAU MARQUETTE & SLOT ASSUMBURG

The Heemskerk area was once the home turf of various noble families in Noord-Holland with no less than nine castles dotted around the region. Nowadays, two castles preserving this antiquity remain open to the public. Surrounded by its very own moat, the enchanting Chateau Marquette ⁸ offers fine dining and a memorable overnight stay. Meanwhile budget-conscious guests will feel like royalty – without paying the royal fee – at Slot Assumburg ⁹, a one-of-a-kind hostel. This impressive castle boasts an array of fantastical turrets and towers, rich medieval style interiors and extensive rose gardens to explore. There are also history-themed guided tours and treasure hunts for the little ones.

SPORTS & RECREATION

On the edge of Heemskerk, in the middle of some stunning natural scenery, lies the Heemskerk Golf Club which boasts a beautiful 27-hole course. For other sports, just visit the sports boulevard with its gym, swimming pool, sauna and riding school. Here you can also play a few rounds of squash, tennis, volleyball or badminton. heemskerksegolfclub.nl ¹⁰

NATURE & DUNES

EXCITING BEACHES

Noordpier beach at IJmuiden is particularly popular for kitesurfing, due to the exceptional wind and wave flow caused by the pier. There's a surfing centre right on the beach where you can learn the basics, as well as rent wetsuits and gear, and while you probably won't master kitesurfing in a single day, it's all the more reason to come back. IJmuiden aan Zee beach is also great for active water sports and racing kite buggies across the sand. The quieter IJmuiderslag beach is a fantastic spot for Nordic walkers, nature lovers and dog walkers. Again, this beach is also perfect for wind and water sports. ¹¹

NATURE AREAS

This rugged stretch of coastline is the home to the spectacular nature reserves of The Zuid-Kennemerland National Park and the Amsterdamse Waterleidingduinen. These protected areas provide a habitat for over 100 different species of birds, deer, rabbits, foxes and large grazers such as Highland cattle and European bison. There are various marked footpaths through beautiful valleys, lakes and magnificent viewpoints and the visitor centres offer bike rentals, maps, cycling routes and information on the landscape and history of the area. ¹² np-zuidkennemerland.nl

AMSTERDAMSE WATERLEIDINGDUINEN

South of Zuid-Kennemerland National Park lies another extraordinary nature reserve, the Amsterdamse Waterleidingduinen (water pipe dunes), an area which supplies drinking water to the residents of Amsterdam. It's an excellent place for a walk, run or hike, but bicycles aren't allowed in – helping to protect the dune landscape. Instead, a dedicated cycle path connects the park to the coastline. It's not uncommon to see grazing deer and wild foxes romping through the underbrush. ¹³ visitzandvoort.com

MANORS IN THE DUNES

The Dutch dunes are full of beautifully preserved historical manorial estates, open to the public for fine or brasserie-style dining and overnight stays. Duin & Kruidberg Country Estate, dating from 1682, offers 75 luxury hotel rooms within the Zuid-Kennemerland National Park. Beeceestijn ¹⁴, meanwhile, is an 18th-century estate created from an older property as a summer residence for a wealthy Amsterdam regent, whose gardens are an outdoor museum. ¹⁵ duin-kruidberg.nl buitenplaatsbeeceestijn.nl

TIP ROUTES

Bike rental and walking/cycling routes are available at regional Tourist Information Centres (VVV).

TIP WHILE YOU'RE THERE

You can't get from Amsterdam to Zandvoort without passing through Haarlem. The capital of the North Holland province has been the region's historical heart for about 800 years. In addition to picturesque architecture, canals, famous churches and a charming central square, Haarlem is a destination for boutique shopping, spectacular museums and fine-dining. Our advice: stop in Haarlem for a bite and drink on your way back to Amsterdam. See page 11 for more information.

FLOWERS OF AMSTERDAM

Every spring, the iconic Flower Strip attracts admirers worldwide as millions of eye-popping tulips burst into bloom. One of the biggest attractions is Keukenhof, the world's most extensive flower gardens, home to more bulb varieties than you could imagine. Bike or sail through kaleidoscopic flower fields, before taking in the excitement of the world's largest flower auction in Aalsmeer, or celebrating at local festivals and annual flower parades. Year-round, pay a visit to the various museums examining the region's horticultural history, garden estates or castles home to quaint tearooms. Elsewhere, the reclaimed polder landscape is dotted with charming villages like Lisse and Hillegom, fascinating forts and monuments which tell the story of the Dutch struggle against the water.

THE NETHERLANDS IN BLOOM

BIKING THE BULB FIELDS

Cycling is by far the best option when you want to explore somewhere at your own pace. You can rent bikes from Rent-a-Bike van Dam at the main entrance of Keukenhof for €16 a day (€11 for three hours), including a cycle route map. There are four signposted and marked routes in total, ranging from 5 to 25 kilometres long, available in nine languages. Combine your flower bike tour with a trip to the beach with route number 3. ¹ rentabikevandam-keukenhof.com

RENZY ELECTRIC VEHICLE TOURS

Another unique way to explore the region is by hiring a 100% electric two-seater vehicle. Renzy's excursions take you around the colourful flower fields, featuring a GPS and an audio guide to tell you all about the destinations you're driving through. There's also a dedicated kids tour, which includes two vehicles (one adult + child per Renzy) and a photo treasure hunt. If you find the numerical code, open the safe and collect a special prize on your return. ² renzy.nl

PICK YOUR OWN

Amsterdam's flower strip has been the top producer of unique flowers, particularly tulips, for centuries. Annemieke's Pluktuin (picking garden) ³, an organic tulip nursery in Hillegom offers visitors the chance to wander through the tulip fields and pick your own vibrant bunch to take home. Thanks to the fertile sandy soil in the region, you'll also find beautiful organic fruit farms such as Land-goed de Olmenhorst (Olmenhorst Estate) ⁴. This green oasis of apple and pear orchards in the village of Lissebroek is over 160 years old. You can enjoy a stroll through the grounds or high tea on the terrace all year round. Or in Autumn, when the fruit is ripe, join one of the pick-your-own events. annemiekespluktuin.nl olmenhorst.nl

MUSEUM DE ZWARTE TULP

Located on the Dorpsplein 't Vierkant square in the centre of Lisse, Museum De Zwarte Tulp (Black Tulip Museum) tells the history of the Netherlands' bulb region as well as the origins and the development of bulb culture through an interactive exhibition for the whole family. There's also a significant collection of botanical prints alongside paintings, glass, silver and porcelain, and changing exhibitions of contemporary art. ⁵ museumdezwartetulp.nl

KEUKENHOF 21 MARCH-12 MAY 2024

Nowhere is the Dutch cult of the tulip celebrated in a more glorious fashion than at the 'the most beautiful spring garden in the world', located in the bulb region south of Amsterdam.

This annual spectacle is open for just eight weeks each year in accordance with the tulip's national flowering season. Keukenhof Gardens boasts a staggering seven million flowers planted across a 32-hectare park. Over 500 growers present their most beautiful blooms, and leading florists create truly unique displays with them. You can easily spend an entire day in the gardens, but the rest of Lisse and the surrounding bulb area is also well worth exploring. ⁶

KEUKENHOF CASTLE

It may be perpetually outshone by its showy neighbour Keukenhof Gardens, but this castle boasts an impressive history with 17th-century roots. Inside, you'll find portraits, artefacts and period furniture. The estate now measures some 240 hectares and is home to 15 listed buildings, an art museum, café, petting farm and walking paths. For details of upcoming events and exhibitions, please check the website. ⁷

THE STYLE OUTLETS

The Style Outlets, offering almost 100 international and national brands like Nike, Adidas, G-Star Raw and Hunkemöller, is the ideal destination for a shopping break. Along with fashion, you'll find stores selling sporting goods, accessories and home furnishings, and various restaurants. The outlet is very easy to reach by public transport due to the nearby Halfweg train station. ⁸

WORLD OF FLOWERS

ROYAL FLORAHOLLAND

Royal FloraHolland in Aalsmeer – just 15 kilometres outside of Amsterdam – is the world's biggest flower auction (a whopping 400 football fields' worth in size). It's so large that the workers get around the site by bike. Royal FloraHolland handles more than 21 million cut flowers and 2 million potted plants each day, mainly for export. The unusual sales method used gave rise to the phrase 'Dutch auction'. Dealers bid by pushing a button to stop a 'clock' that counts from 100 down to 1; meaning that the price is lowered – rather than raised – until a buyer is found. Bidders risk either paying too much for the goods or not getting them if someone else bids first. The best action is before 9:00 so you'll have to get up early to see it, but there are flowers stretching as far as the eye can see. The smell is divine, and with an (optional) knowledgeable, multilingual guide, you'll witness the auction process first-hand. Open weekdays 07:00-11:00;

Thursday until 09:00 (closed on public holidays). ⁹

WATER & HISTORY

CRUQUIUS STEAM PUMPING STATION

Four metres below sea level, the municipality of Haarlemmermeer harbours a historic pumping station with the world's largest steam engine. In the middle of the 19th-century, the Cruquius steam engine was used to drain a lake in order to create new land. The only pumping station saved from demolition, Cruquius is now part of a fascinating museum. Learn about the Dutch struggle against water, marvel at a model of how the Netherlands would look without dykes, and experience a live steam engine demonstration. ¹³ haarlemmermeermuseum.nl

BOAT CRUISES

The Aalsmeer area is famous for its horticultural industry, and the small islands of the Westeinderplassen (Westeinder Lakes) still grow strawberries and lilacs – just as they did long ago. After exploring the greenhouses at the Aalsmeer Historical Gardens ¹⁴, book an organised boat tour by Westerinder Rondvaart from the neighbouring jetty. During this fascinating 1-hour cruise, a knowledgeable skipper will float you through a network of channels teeming with local plant and wildlife. Tours can be booked from May to October. ¹⁵ historischetuinaalsmeer.nl westeinderrondvaart.nl

WESTEINDER LAKES & WATER TOWER

The Westeinder Lakes offer plenty of watersports, from swimming to sailing lessons and boat rentals. Everyone is welcome to moor their boat at Starteiland. For stunning views of the lake and surrounding region, climb to the top of the Aalsmeer Watertoren - an elaborately decorated Art Deco water tower stretching 50m. Alternatively, take a seat at On the Rock waterfront restaurant where the view and sunset are spectacular every season and especially lovely from the large waterfront terrace. ¹⁵ ontherock.nl aalsmeer-watertoren.nl

FORT VAN HOOFFDORP

This fortress island has undergone a large-scale renovation in recent years. With the re-designation, Fort van Hoofddorp has been transformed into a unique meeting place with space for hospitality, landscaping and cultural activities. Here you will find a restaurant, terraces, a wine bar, an open-air theatre and an education centre. ¹⁶ fortvanhoofddorp.nl

DE ZUILEN

De Zuilen is a beautiful garden estate in Hilegom that boasts 3,500 square metres of groomed, walkable grounds and courtyards filled with Roman and Greek statues, fountains and columns, from which the estate gets its name. From 1 April to 31 May, De Zuilen's gardens bloom with narcissus, hyacinths and tulips, the latter of which is cultivated by a tulip specialist from Lelystad. ¹⁶ de-zuilen.nl

DAY TRIP A BLOOMING LOVELY DAY

Half day

Get up early and head to the Royal FloraHolland flower auction before sailing across some of the Netherlands' most picturesque lakes and waterways.

START at Elandsgracht bus stop in Amsterdam. Take bus 357 to Aalsmeer and get off at stop FloraHolland (55 minutes). ⁸

TAKE IN the hustle and bustle of the auction floor, watch traders bid against the clock and be amazed at the amount of beautiful blooms traded daily from more than ten countries. Remember: the earlier you get there, the more you'll see.

JUMP ON bus 357 again (direction Aalsmeer) and get off at the Hortensiaaplein stop. Walk to Westerinder Rondvaart ¹² (20 minutes, westeinderrondvaart.nl), take a boat tour on the Aalsmeer lakes and marvel at the countless islands teeming with flora and fauna.

WALK around Aalsmeer and take in the numerous historical monuments before jumping on the bus 357 from Hortensiaaplein back to Amsterdam.

FORTRESS STRETCH

WEEPS

Just 15 minutes by train from Amsterdam Centraal Station, the charming 700-year-old fortified town of Weesp is a honeycomb of cosy cafés, soaring church steeples and photogenic drawbridges. Its rich architecture includes the spectacular Ossenmarkt and Issenmeer forts, a stunning interwoven canal network, three historical windmills and the former town hall – a stately, neoclassical building which now houses the municipal museum. Don't miss Wispe Brouwerij - a unique brewery in a historic church, now converted into a stunning grand café. Between the copper kettles, the high ceilings and airy interiors make for a beautiful setting to enjoy home-brewed seasonal beers, Dutch snack platters and juicy burgers. ¹ visitgooivecht.com/weesp/wispe.nl

NEW LAND

Nationaal Park Nieuw Land

Living four metres below sea level, Flevoland - the result of a large-scale land reclamation project in the 1930s - is a province associated with cutting-edge architecture and a sustainable vision. Lelystad and Almere are fast-growing urban centres teeming with recreational activities, cultural hotspots, exceptional shopping and mindblowing urban art. These modern polder cities blend forward-thinking design with futuristic urban planning, all the while embracing the water and nature right on their doorstep. Elsewhere, the region's watery past is still apparent in its nautical history and impressive natural landscapes. Unique man-made nature reserves provide vast swathes of protected marshlands for migrating birds and ample opportunity for walking, cycling and wildlife tours. Meanwhile, the not-to-be-missed Land Art throughout the region makes for an ideal day trip. iamsterdam.com/newland

RECLAIMED WATERS

EXPLORING THE POLDER

Wherever you walk in Flevoland, you're actually walking on the seabed, the former Zuiderzee. A system of dykes holds back the surrounding water, the level of which is, on average, 5 metres higher. The Zuiderzee posed a looming and constant threat to the inhabitants of the surrounding area, with thousands of people losing their lives during storm floods. The idea to drain the Zuiderzee had been raised as far back as the 17th-century, but it took modern engineering to complete the project. In the 20th-century, work began on reclaiming more than 1,800 km² from the inland Zuiderzee, creating the Netherlands' youngest province, Flevoland, and cities like Almere and Lelystad in the process. Today, the area's remarkable history, modern architecture, friendly beaches and a unique nature reserve make New Land well worth a visit. visitflevoland.com/en

BATAVIALAND

Take a journey spanning 7,000 years of Dutch history at Batavialand. 1 The shipyard shows how the Dutch have mastered shipbuilding over the centuries, building robust ships that were capable of traversing Dutch and international waters. Climb aboard the famous reconstruction of the VOC ship, the Batavia, and find out how these powerful 17th-century trade ships were constructed. Want to see where the battle against the water started in Lelystad? Visit Werkeiland 2 and find out. batavialand.nl/en/shipyard

Presenting a broad outline of the history of Flevoland, from the prehistoric Swifterbant people to the largest reclamation project ever: the Zuiderzee project. The collection includes 6,000-year-old archaeological finds from the days when Flevoland was still an extensive marshland, as well as archives with thousands of photographs, documents and much more. There's plenty for children to do, including presentations that let them step into the shoes of a dyke builder, archaeologist or lock keeper. Fun experiments and games teach them about one of the Netherlands' key challenges: water management. 1 batavialand.nl/en/museum

LAND ART

During the creation of the Flevoland polder, the engineers and planners decided to mark the momentous occasion with art. They turned to an art form that spoke to their imagination: Land Art. The result is a collection of nine Land Art works - the highest concentration anywhere in the world - by world-famous artists such as Robert Morris, Anthony Gormley and Daniel Libeskind. All nine can be visited in a single day. Discover these gems by yourself (by car) or during an organised bus tour (in summer) - and take in the amazing history of Flevoland's creation at the same time. 3 visitflevoland.nl/landart

NEW NATURE

NATUURPARK LELYSTAD

Discover endangered species and impressive wisents (bison) in the beautiful setting of Natuurpark Lelystad, an important link in the circle of wildlife. The nature park features an extensive system of hiking and cycling trails and several picnic areas. The visitor centre offers information on tours and packages, and there's a shop where you can rent bikes. They will provide you with all the information you need about Natuurpark Lelystad 4 and other stunning nature reserves, such as Lepelaarplassen. visitlelystad.nl/en/gebied/natuurpark

NEW LAND NATIONAL PARK

New Land National Park is a truly unique landscape in the Netherlands. It's rugged, wide, full of contrast, there's always water nearby - and of course, there's the well-known dyke: a constant reminder that you are indeed on a former seabed. This unpolished landscape is home to many animals. There are tens of thousands of birds, large groups of wild herbivores, horses, red deer, foxes, sea eagles, beavers, otters, grass snakes, butterflies and dragonflies. 5 6 nationaalparknieuwland.nl/en

OOSTVAARDERSPLASSEN

The Oostvaardersplassen is the largest man-made nature reserve in the world and is one unlike any other in Europe. During their annual migration, tens of thousands of birds stop to refuel or breed in the lake complex. You can also find yourself face to face with wild cattle, horses and red deer crossing the open landscape. In the Natuurbelevingscentrum (Nature Experience Centre), there are telescopes to help you spot the wildlife from a distance.

DE KEMPHAAN

For an adventurous day out, head to De Kempphaan, close to Almere, where kids will delight in tackling the high ropes and zip lines of Klimbos Fun Forest Almere or observing the rescued monkeys at Stichting AAP. The unmissable Almere Jungle offers exotic animal surprises, a tropical cafe and exceptional play areas. This amusing wildlife park, staffed by passionate volunteers, has lashings of humour, imagination and care in how the enclosures are constructed. Take a break at one of the local restaurants or even spend the night in one of the estate's camping pitches or tipi tents on the nature campsite. ¹⁰ kempphaan.nl/en/forest

MARKER WADDEN

Marker Wadden, part of New Land National Park, is a unique nature reserve still in development. The small islands, in between Lelystad and Enkhuizen, are constructed with sand, clay and silt from the Markermeer. As new plants blossom both under and above water, it is quickly becoming a natural paradise for fish and birds. Delve deeper into the Marker Wadden with your own boat or taking the ferry. On the island, a guide from Natuurmonumenten will explain the environment's fascinating features. Alternatively, join the Marker Wadden Experience Tour – boarding from either Lelystad or Almere. Your adventure starts on a VR bus, and includes a memorable cruise where the educational guide will take you through the unique history of Flevoland. ¹¹ nieuwland-experience.nl/visitleystad.nl/en/locatie/markerwadden

MODERN CITIES

ALMERE CITY CENTRE

Approximately 400 shops with international allure thread through modern architectural highlights in the centre of Almere, one of the youngest and fastest-growing cities in the Netherlands, nestled in a green polder. Shop for everything from local curiosities to world-famous brands and then head to the 'restaurant squares' of Stations-plein, Belfort restaurant square and Grote Markt. Alternatively, see Almere's architecture from an insider's perspective with a guided tour of the city centre or other neighbourhoods. Or grab the walking tour flyer at the Tourist Information Centre (VVV Almere) ⁸ and explore Almere by yourself. Bike rentals and information about guided tours are available as well. ¹² visitalmere.com/en

BOAT HIRE

For the perfect introduction to this modern city built on water, step aboard an electric sloop boat courtesy of Sloepverhuur Almere. During a short cruise, you'll gain a magnificent impression of the skyline and surrounding green spaces. Boarding is available from the Esplanade, in the center of Almere. sloepverhuuralmere.nl

THERMEN LA MER

Refresh your body and soul at this exclusive day spa located just outside, dreaming away in the Finnish Kelo saunas, swimming pool or hot tub. After a plunge, stroll around the Mediterranean garden or indulge in tasty – and healthy – dishes at the restaurant. Located in Almere, the spa allows you to truly immerse yourself in luxury and pleasure – if only for one day. thermenlamer.nl

KUNSTLINIE THEATRE

At first glance, the Kunstlinie Theatre appears to be floating, jutting over Weerwater Lake in a dramatic horizontal slice. Japanese architects Kazuyo Sejima and Ryue Nishizawa opted for stylistic simplicity and transparency in their designs, using glass facades to fill the building with light and reflect the beautiful natural surroundings. The stage is taken over by everyone from dance and theatre companies, pop singers, jazz bands, comedians, cabaret acts and touring musicals – so keep an eye on the agenda for the full programme. ¹⁴ kunstlinie.nl

CABLEPARK ALMERE

Calling all (water-based) thrill-seekers! Spend a day whizzing around the Weerwater lake on water skis or a wakeboard, aided by a kilometre-long cable track that allows users to reach speeds of up to 30km/ph. Experienced water sportsers can make the most of the various obstacles on the course to try out tricks, while beginners can get acquainted with the sports on the dedicated training track. All equipment required to hit the water is available for hire. After working up an appetite, grab a seat on the restaurant terrace and take in the tremendous views of the Almere skyline. ¹⁵ cableparkviewalmere.nl

BOUTIQ ALMERE

Almere's latest hotspot on the Grote Markt, restaurant Boutiq is the place for all-day brunches, small plates at dinner and expert-made cocktails. It's an aesthetic spot too, complete with extravagant geometric-patterned walls and hanging flower pieces, grand chandeliers and crushed velvet chairs. ¹⁷ boutiqalmere.nl

ROSITA'S ALMERE

For Mexican food, Rosita's is the go-to spot. After numerous trips to Mexico and gaining years of experience with top chefs, hostess Sonja and chef Ton opened their own restaurant. They capture the spirit of the Land of Mariachi, with a menu filled with traditional dishes from empanadas to molé as well as plenty of mezcal and cocktails. The decor helps too, with a yellow stone interior, tiled floors and a colourful terrace all helping bring a little bit of Mexico City to Flevoland. ¹⁸ rositas.nl

LELYSTAD

AGORA THEATRE & RESTAURANT APPLAUS

The attention-grabbing Agora Theater is located in a bright orange building designed by Ben van Berkel. Inside you'll find a theatre, cinema, and congress centre which form the cultural heart of the city. Swing by for a bite to eat at the highly-rated Restaurant Grand Cafe Applaus – a modern yet intimate setting to enjoy a delicious meal devised by head chef Martijn van Wegen. Whether it's for a cappuccino on the sunny terrace, a relaxed business lunch, a selection of appetisers or the sumptuous 5-course menu, Applaus has got it covered. ¹⁹

AVIODROME AVIATION MU SEUM

Discover a world full of adventurous airplane action for young and old in the Luchtvaart Museum Aviodrome – dedicated to 100 years of civil aviation. Admire more than 100 old and new aircraft inside and outside. Board a Boeing 747 and experience the adrenaline of a real pilot in the flight simulator and 4D film theatre! Enthusiastic volunteers give free guided tours daily, taking you into the world of airplanes and aviation from then and now. ²⁰ aviodrome.nl

BATAVIA STAD FASHION OUTLET

Batavia Stad Amsterdam Fashion Outlet offers visitors a unique shopping experience. Amidst this charming, reconstructed 17th-century village laid out with pristine streets and leafy squares, discover more than 250 international fashion, jewellery and homeware brands across 150 stores. After bagging bargains and uncovering the latest trends, grab a coffee and treat yourself at one of the hip cafes or pleasant restaurants. The outlet is open seven days a week and is easily accessible by public transport or car. ²¹ bataviastad.com

DAYTRIP YOUNGEST PROVINCE

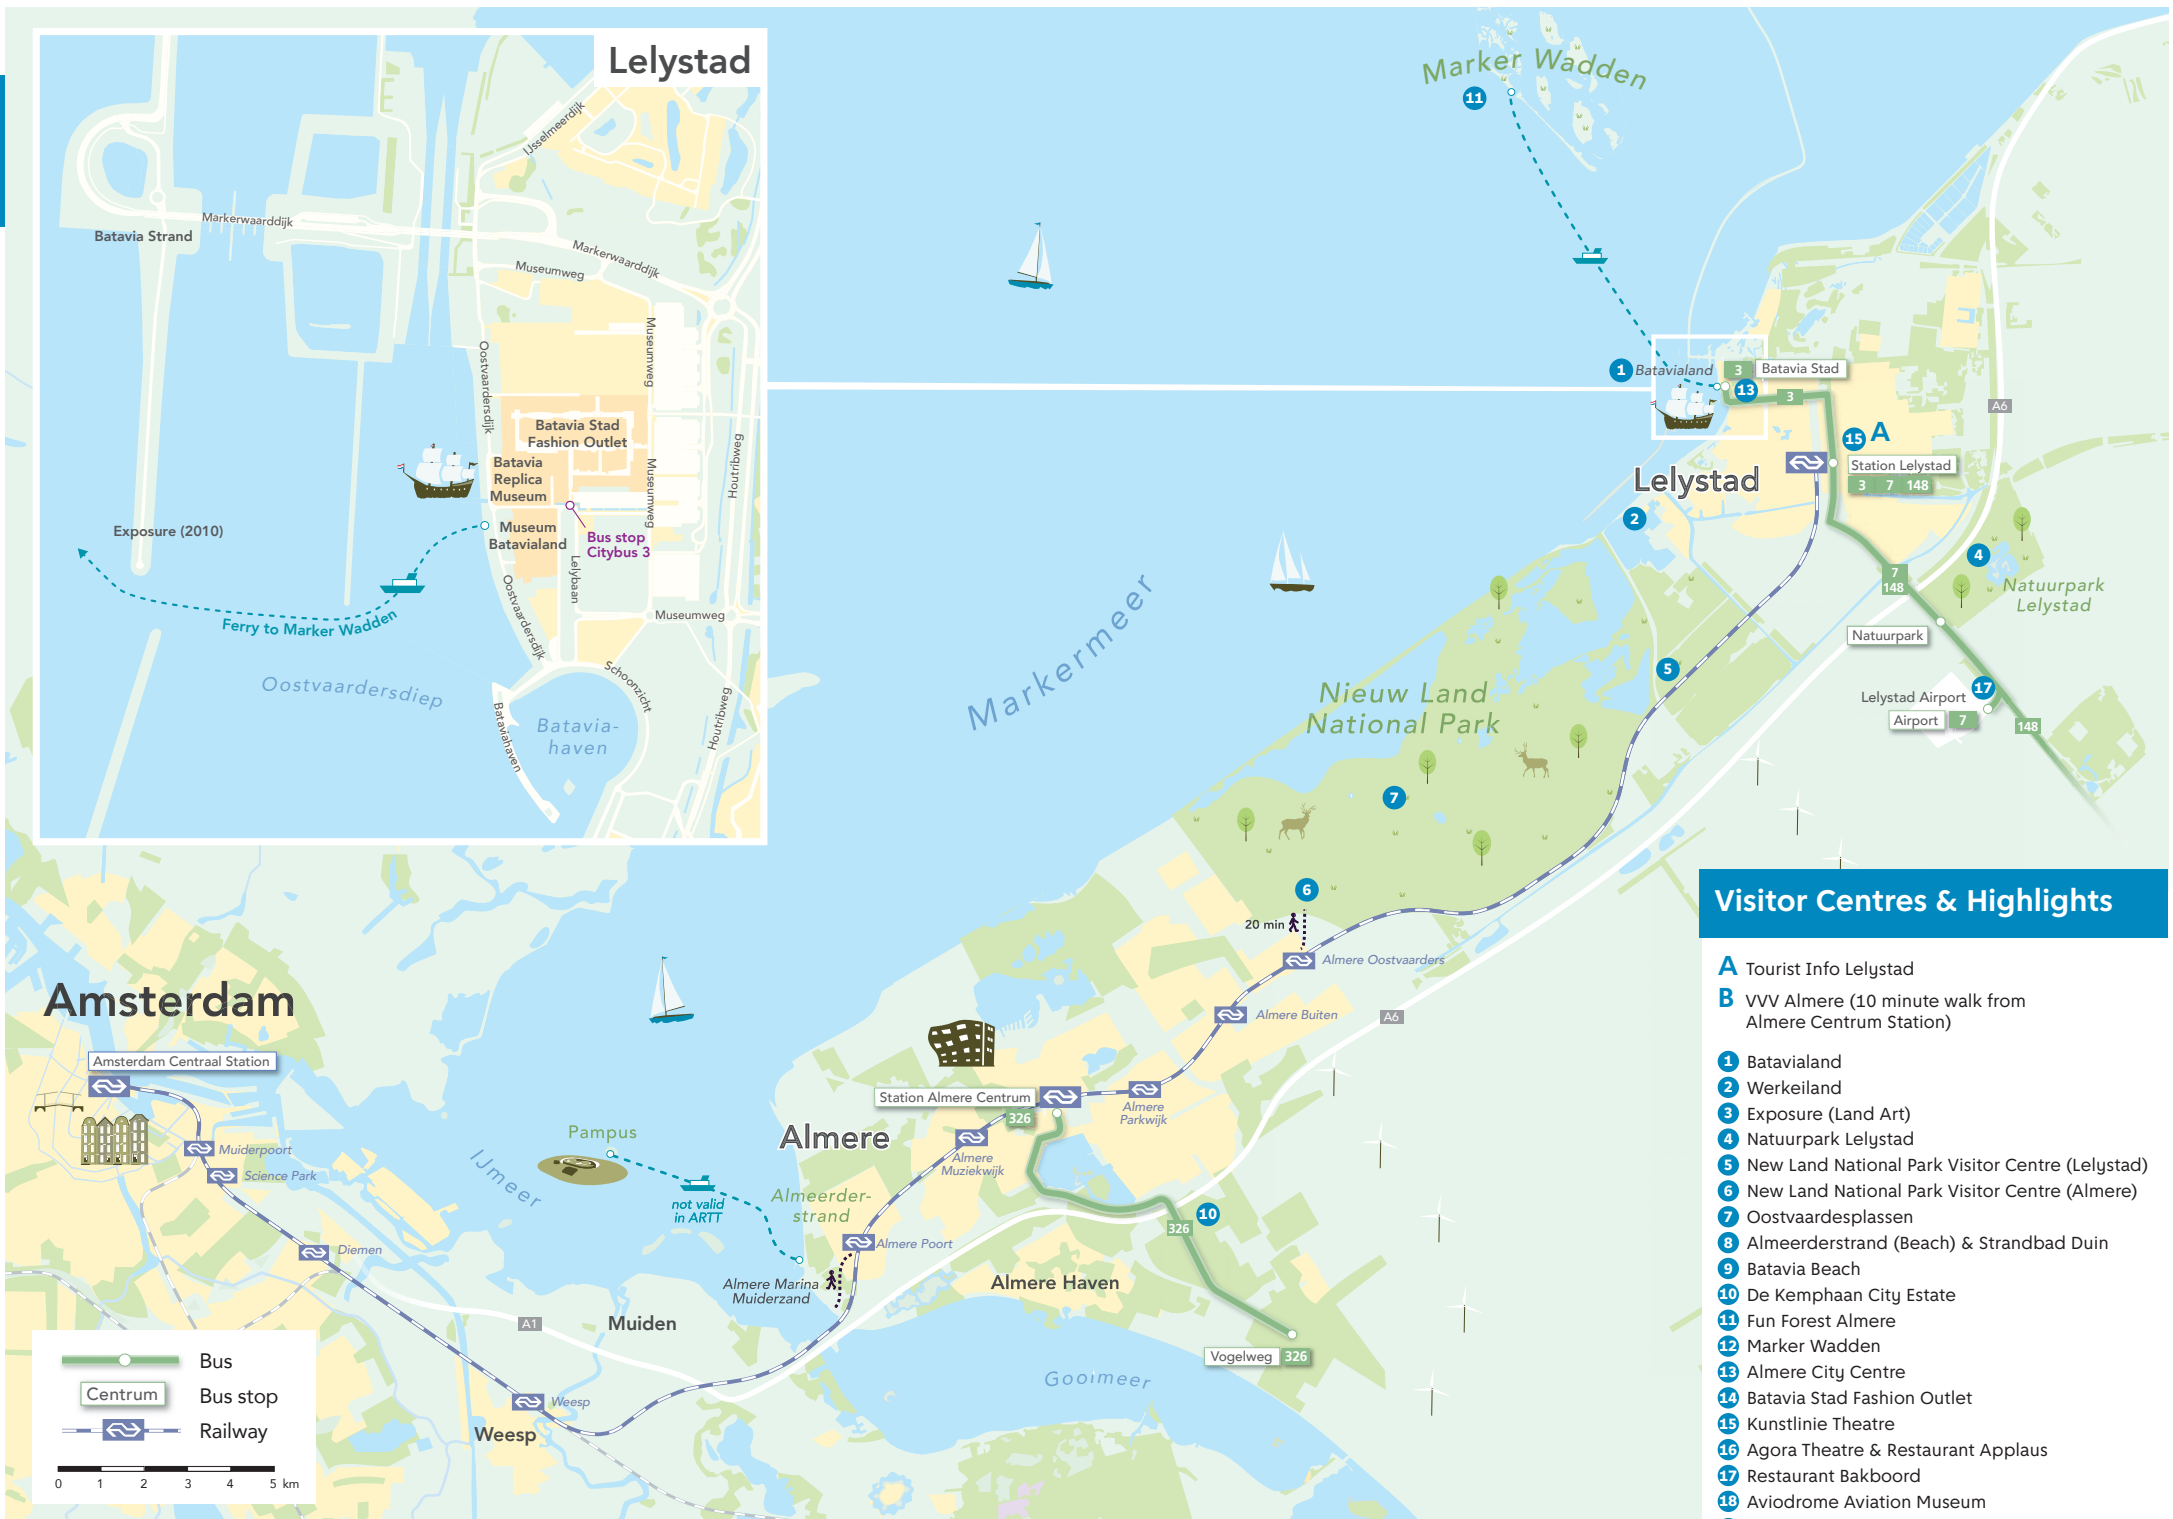

Half or full day

START at Amsterdam Centraal Station. The best way to experience New Land is to take the train to Lelystad Centrum. The views from the train are spectacular, as you can even spot native species in the Nieuw Land National Park along the way. Tip: take a seat on the left side of the train for the best views. The train ride is only 40 minutes from Amsterdam Centraal Station.

DISCOVER the history of the reclamation of Flevoland at Batavialand Museum. Next to the museum is a replica of the Dutch East India Company (VOC) ship The Batavia. ¹

VISIT Almere City Centre to admire the stunning modern architecture of this new city. Special 'architecture routes' are available from the Tourist Information Centre. ⁸

The Zaan region is a magnificent piece of perfectly preserved industrial heritage, and a visit here is like travelling back in time. For those who wish to soak up this legacy, visit the characteristic towns of Old-Zaandijk, Westzaan and Wormer known for their iconic windmills and well-preserved wooden houses which offer a glimpse into the area's vibrant trading past. Further north, the former Zuiderzee boasts historic market towns and picturesque fishing villages such as Edam, Volendam, Marken and Monnickendam. Several traditional cheese farms keep the old-fashioned Dutch craft of cheese-making alive, with staff demonstrating their artisan skills. With its green meadows, traditional farmhouses, and two UNESCO World Heritage Sites, Amsterdam Waterland offers an abundance of activities for anyone who enjoys the outdoors.

INDUSTRIAL HERITAGE

INTEL HOTELS & CLAUDE MONET

'Zaandam is quite remarkable,' wrote Claude Monet, 'and there is enough to paint for a lifetime.' Indeed, the region does seem to have inspired him: during his short stay here in 1871, Monet created 25 paintings. But what would Monet have painted had he walked around Zaandam today? Probably the Inntel Hotels Amsterdam Zaandam.

1 A modern interpretation of the traditional green Zaan houses, the 12-storey structure is the showpiece of the Inntel Hotels chain. The blue house at the top is based on Monet's eponymous painting in 1871 in Zaandam. Replicas of Monet's 25 Zaandam paintings can be seen in the MonetAtelier 2 along the River Zaan in the centre of Zaandam. The Monet Atelier is located in the rebuilt 'Luchthuis aan de Zaan', a house from one of Monet's paintings. The Zaan Museum 3 also owns a real Monet; definitely worth a visit. zaans.nl/visitors

ZAANSE SCHANS

From the 17th to 19th centuries, the Zaanstreek flourished as one of Europe's first and most important industrial areas. With its traditional houses, windmills, warehouses and workshops, the Zaanse Schans open-air museum offers a perfectly preserved glimpse into Old Holland's past. While the attraction can be visited any time of year, most of the windmills are open to visitors from April to October. Besides windmills, you can also visit the souvenir shops, see clogs being made or visit a cheese farm – offering a surprising and fun day out for all ages. The interactive Windmill Museum, only a 15-minute walk from Zaanse Schans, forms an excellent beginning or end point of a visit to area. Here you can see countless paintings, models and original instruments that will transport visitors back in time. 4 dezaanseschans.nl

HEMBRUGTERREIN

Once a hub for the production of ammunition and weaponry, Zaandam's Hembrugterrein is a historically significant site with a compelling blend of industrial heritage and contemporary development. In recent decades the remarkable architectural spaces of this former military complex have been transformed into restaurants and creative venues. The focal point is Het HEM, a former munitions factory where multidisciplinary art and music programmes unfold (reopening after renovation in Autumn 2024). Just around the corner, The light-drenched Museum of Humanity features dozens of thought-provoking portraits of people from all over the world to pose questions about what it means to be human. A GVB ferry service runs between Hemptonplein (Amsterdam West) and Zaandam over the North Sea Canal. 5 hethem.nl museumofhumanity.nl

ZAAN WATERFRONT

The 11-km Zaan waterfront connects some 75 vintage industrial buildings. Each piece of heritage tells a story about the region's glorious past - beginning in the 1600s when wood was sawn, and sails were woven in the windmills which still flank the river. At the start is the historic Czar Peter House 9 where Peter the Great spent a week learning the craft of shipbuilding in 1697. The most beautiful stretch is at Wormer, known as the Industrial Wall, where monumental warehouses and beautifully restored factories line the banks. This bend is a perfect backdrop for a stroll or cycle, before a stopping at a waterside terraces. zaans.nl/visitors

TIP VERKADE EXPERIENCE

At the heart of the Zaan Museum, you will find the Verkade Experience. A treat for young and old alike, the Verkade Experience transports you back to the chocolate-and-biscuit factory of the early 20th-century, where the original machines are still churning away. 10 zaansmuseum.nl/en

oud-zaandijk & gortershoek

Across the water from Zaanse Schans 6, you will find the protected village of Gortershoek with its beautiful 17th- and 18th-century green merchant houses known for their curly facades.

7 One of the former residences is now the Honig Breethuis Museum, housing an exhibition on the history of Zaanse paper, original hand-painted wallpaper from the 18th-century, beautiful porcelain and much more. Guides will be happy to show you around the house and explain the history of the families who lived there 8 Elsewhere in Oud-Zaandijk, sample the local tipples at Brouwerij Hoop, a craft brewery with tastings and tours on offer.

HARBOUR VILLAGES

MONNICKENDAM

The beautiful harbour town of Monnickendam is home to dozens of monumental buildings. In the 17th century, shipyards and fish smokehouses were established here, and they never left: even now, the historic buildings and street names are reminiscent of its industrious past, when trades and crafts flourished. Today, the town's relationship with the water is unmistakable and sailing enthusiasts flock here. Watch the boats launch from a unique culinary spot overlooking the marina or end the day at one of the cosy beach bars along the Gouwzee. Don't miss the chance to pause for freshly baked apple pie and refreshments in the waterside tea garden at Het Weeshuis - a stunning volunteer-run cafe and crafts atelier. 10

VOLEDAM

Volendam is known for its traditional costumes, music and fish, whilst the characteristic tiny houses, made incredibly picturesque by the beautiful harbour, create an atmosphere of friendliness and romance. To soak up the ambience, sample a smoked eel or herring dish from one of the fish vendors and take a stroll along dyke as you watch the rippling water of the Markermeer. Don't miss the Volendams Museum, undoubtedly one of the most unconventional museums in the Netherlands, where visitors can glimpse into unique elements of early Dutch life in the region. 11

EDAM

Edam was once one of the country's most important historic centres and its rich trading history is still visible today. It continues to be known around the world for its eponymous cheese, which you can learn all about at the Story of Edam Cheese Museum 12. Of course, visiting in July and August when the famous cheese market is on is certainly a plus, but a tour of the town's centuries-old buildings (such as the monumental Grote Kerk) and picturesque streets at any time delivers various sightseeing opportunities. Cruise the canals on a former cattle boat, taking in views of the traditional houses and hand-operated drawbridges. Roam through the dark passageways of Fort bij Edam, encountering fascinating hands-on exhibits dedicated to military history. And don't miss the Edam Museum to find out all about the shipbuilding, timber and cheese-trading industries which built the wealth of this charming market town. 13

MARKEN

So picture-perfect it's like stepping into a 17th-century Dutch landscape painting, historic Marken with its characteristic green wooden houses – 145 of which are national monuments – was an island in the Zuiderzee until 1957, when it was connected to the mainland by a dyke. Get a glimpse into this remarkable fishing village's heritage and distinctive way of life at the Marker Museum and don't miss the Sijtje Boes Experience - the fascinatingly restored home of a legendary souvenir seller from the early 20th century. For the perfect end to the day, check out the excellent dining options along the harbour with phenomenal views at sunrise and sunset. Visitors can board the Volendam Marken Express (ferry, sails year-round) to travel between the old fishing villages of Volendam and Marken. This nostalgic vessel has been in operation for 100 years and departs daily. 14
